The Facilitators' Network was formed to offer new methods of convening meetings and creating opportunities for consultation, participation, working in co-operation, working in partnership, creating dialogue, achieving consensus and solving conflict.

The members of the Network are a team of people with a wide range of experience and skills involving planning and facilitating. The intention is to offer a bilingual service of a high standard so as to encourage the communities of Gwynedd to contribute towards the development of our society in various ways.

By offering an independent and objective service, the Network can ensure debate where everyone can take part fully, make decisions, listen to opinions and lessen conflict.
